

Chapter 1: Introduction

This is the first page of a multi-page document.

Each page can contain different content and formatting.

Chapter 2: Content

This is the second page.

Notice how we can add new pages with `add_page()`.

Each page starts fresh with default formatting.

Chapter 3: More Pages

This is the third page.

Section 3.1

We can use heading levels to structure content.

Section 3.2

Pages automatically flow to maintain layout.

Chapter 4: Conclusion

This is the final page.

Multi-page documents are useful for reports, manuals, and long documents.
